BOTH ARE VALUABLE.

Cotton Seed and Cotton Seed Meal Worth All They Cost, Especially in the Great Southwest.

At the present prices that are prevailing for cotton seed and cotton seed meal, the latter is the cheaper and better feed. Every grower of cotton should also be something of a stockman, since he is producing one of the very best of stock foods, and should utilize it at home so as to keep up the fertility of the soil.

Just when to feed cotton seed and when to feed cotton seed meal is a question which troubles many farmers. In so far as the feeding value goes, it is true for all practical purposes that when what is received for a ton of cotton seed will pay for 750 pounds of meal it is economy to buy meal. At the present prices it will do more than that, and no cotton seed should be fed this fall.

The addition of about two pounds of cotton seed meal per day to the ration of corn or Kafir meal usually fed to steers that are being fattened is profitable, especially when corn or Kafir stover is used for roughness. The cotton seed meal supplies the flesh and growth-making materials which corn and Kafir corn lack and produces better growth and more rapid gains. It is better for this purpose than cotton seed because the oil being fed on corn or Kafir. If the ern and eastern states can afford to seed meal as feed for their cattle, it would certainly be profitable for Okiahome farmers to make use of all that THE NEW YORK FAMILY STORY PAPER is for sale everywhere is grown here and keep our fertility

Every ton of cotton seed meal is worth what it costs as a fertilizer, and when fed to cattle all this fertility is kept at home, where it belongs .- National Rural.

THE COST OF PORK

It Varies According to Locality, But Three Cents a Pound Is a Fair Average.

The cost of pork per pound largely regulates the opinions in which farmers hold swine raising. In some localities the farmers claim that they can buy even their own pork cheaper than they can raise it. Where such opinions prevail it is evident that the raisers of swine have been unfortunate in their experiences in producing pork or else do not know what it has really cost them to produce it. At some experiments carried on at the Maryland experiment station it was demonstrated that on certain foods pork can be made at a cost of 21/4 cents per pound. This, of course, can be done only under favorable circumstances and where the pigs are kept in healthful conditions. If a large per cent. of the herd is to be permitted to die of cholera certainly it will not be possible to raise pork at any such figure. As to the cost of pork production, everything depends on the cir-cumstances in which the feeder finds imself, for some have access to cheap feeds that are not in the reach of other farmers. Thus some farmers live ear creameries where the skim milk not valued as it should be and is sold by the creamery manager at onehalf cent per gallon to anyone that will take it away. The milk as a profeeds, is worth far more than this, and of course its use by the pig raiser will result in greatly reducing the established principle that pork is produced cheapest on young hogs.

NOTES FOR STOCKMEN.

When the hogs are fat ship to mar ket or get them into the pork barrel. Any hay that is bleached by storm or long exposure to the weather, if not moldy or rotten, may be fed out now-but do not starve any animal to est it; feed a little at a time and give grain to tone up its quality.

Clover hay, pumpkins, mangles or other bulky food will keep the hogs thrifty and growing through the winmay be well to feed the pumpkins first, then the beets and the clover last or nearest spring.

CORN SMUT DESCRIBED.

That It is injurious or Dangerous to Stock.

Prof. Plumb, in his work on Corn Culture, says: Smut, as seen by the armer, is either a distorted, greenishwhite piece of vegetable tissue, or mass of black greasy powder, which generally appears breaking out from an ear of corn or from the leaf or stalk when green or succulent. The source is a simple, tubular, minute plant, too small to be seen by the naked eye. It grows in the tissues of the corn plant, and feeds upon its juice. These little plants, of which there are vast rumbers, branch out in tubular form when they find a spot in the corn plant that is especially nourishing. Then, inside these tubes, minute bodies termed spores (seeds) develop, and finally the spot becomes a mass of these, and then all of the little plants except the spores wither away. The dark-colored, loose smut, is mostly the mass of spores, of which there are countless numbers.

Smut is generally thought by farmers to be injurious to stock, yet but little satisfactory evidence is at hand to prove that such is the case, as it is commonly eaten.

HIRED-HELP PROBLEM.

its Solution Puggles Western Pari as Well as Housekeepers in the Large Cities.

It is the hired-help problem that I Dyspepsia Cure have not yet been able to solve. I have to pay good prices. Day hands have commanded $1.50 a day right along this summer, and it is mostly unreliable help at that. So if I desire to reap any profits on their labor at ordinary prices of produce I have to look after them pretty closely, and if possible work with them right along. I contracted to have my corn cut at $1.50 an acre rather than pay $1.50 a day. The corn was heavy, but the man cut five acres in about 31/4 days. Globe-Democrat five or six days to cut that number of acres. Years ago, I remember, when we had hands cradling and binding grain or digging potatoes, the practice was to "race" it; that is, to see who could cut or bind his swath or dig his row of potatoes the quickest. It kept everyone on the move, and the work progressed at a good rate. The employer never had reason to find fault with his men for idling or shirking. Every hand was ready to give his best service, and the "racing" feature seemed to be a great stimulus; indeed, rather an enjoyment. But times seem to have changed. Many of the helpers of the present day work only for what they can get out of the job .- Farm and

FACTS FOR FARMERS.

It is easier to start right than to get right after having been wrong. Horse manure, land plaster and road dust are good absorbents in the cow stable. They take up the liquid and also prevent escape of nitrogen.

A dose for skunks which settles them surely is made by mixing strychulne with the contents of an egg and placing it inside the shell. Take care that only the right animal gets the bait.

Gasoline engines are being used to quite an extent in Ohio. The cost of operating is much less than for steam. There is less danger than from steam and no time is wasted in getting up steam .- T. B. Terry, in Farm and

The next time you are near a freight car just take the point of your knife and try the paint. The reason the paint wood-preserving qualities. Every farmuse is the best, which will prove cheapest. The paint which the experience of railroads has proven the best will also be found best for the farm. Iron paint is the best pain. This is no "boom" for any particular brand.—J.
L. Irwin, in Ohio Farmer.

How to Figure Profit.

The larger the crop per acre the low er the cost and the greater the profit. It has been shown that, including labor, interest on capital, wear of implements, etc., a crop of 15 bushels of wheat per acre costs about 48 cents per bushel. With the same labor a crop of 30 busels will cost 27 cents per bushel. There may be no profit at all on 15 bushels while 30 bushels per acre may give a fair profit, much, however, depending on the market prices, the farm and distance from market.

A BROADWAY INCIDENT.

-Hy Given Twice to a Begge and the Beggar Doesn't Stop Him.

One of two men who were walking on Broadway talking was attracted by the appearance of a one-legged beggar who sat, a crutch beside him, on the edge of some steps in front of a store, holding out his hat to the passers, by. So he reached in his pocket, pulled out a number of coins and took from among them one which he dropped in the beggar's hat. OUR VAST MINERAL RICHES. carly a Thousand Millions in Value

Taken from the Earth A chart published by the geological survey gives a summary of the mineral products of the United States for the past ten years. The aggregate values have increased by more than one-half in that period and the figires for 1899 are greater than in any previous year, footing up the enor nous total of $976,000,000, The value of the metallic product of the year is given at $527,218,084 and of the nonmetallic at $447,790,862. The latter class includes, of course, the coals-$168,000,000 in bituminous and $88,000,000 in Pennsylvania anthracite

$64,600,000 in petroleum, $20,000,000 worth of natural gas and large value in stone, brick clay and cement, with various other minerals. Of the metals our pig iron is worth almost as much as all others together, the value of last year's product being given at $245,000,000. Copper comes next, worth $104,000,000, and the $71, 000,000 in gold is third. The market value of the silver produced in 1899 was about $23,000,000 and the lead and zine together were worth about as much. Quicksilver, aluminum, antimony, nickel and plantinum are the other metals that figure in the table. In one of his recent lectures at Clark University, Prof. Angelo Mosso, of Turin, averred that "Physical edueation and gymnastics serve not only for the development of the muscles, but for that of the brain as well." It is becoming evident, he said, that as much time should be devoted to muscular exercise as to intellectual exercise, and children should begin reading and writing only after they are nine years old. Muscular fatigue exhibits phenomena identical with intellectual fatigue. Nerve cells show on the average every ten seconds a tendency to rest. It is probable that only part of the brain is active at a time; the various parts relieve each other. The more mobile any animal's extremities are the more intelligent, other things being equal, he says.
